Commission on Graduate and Professional Studies and Policies
Resolution CGPSP 2021-22A
Resolution to Discontinue the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Educational Research and Evaluation (EDRE)

Dr. Marcía Feuerstein presented the resolution for first reading. This degree program was flagged by the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia in the year 2020 as being below the minimum quantitative standards for degrees awarded. There are approximately ten students currently enrolled in the program. This resolution will be effective in the fall of 2026 which will provide sufficient time for any student enrolled to complete their degree.

Commission on Graduate and Professional Studies and Policies
Resolution CGPSP 2021-22B
Resolution to Change the Grading Mode at VTCSOM from Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory with Opportunities for Letters of Distinction in Each Year 3 Clerkship to Honors/High Pass/Pass/Fail.
Dr. Marcía Feuerstein presented the resolution for first reading. This resolution will change the grading mode at the Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine (VTCSOM) from satisfactory/unsatisfactory with opportunities for letters of distinction in each year 3 clerkship to honors, high pass, pass, or fail. A significant and growing number of other medical schools are using honors, high pass, pass, and fail in their clinical clerkships in order to provide performance data for residency program interview selection. The lack of this clinical performance data will disadvantage the VTCSOM student in the residency selection process. This resolution will be effective academic year 2022-23.

Commission on Undergraduate Studies and Policies
Resolution CUSP 2021-22A
Resolution for the Establishment of a School of Animal Sciences at Virginia Tech

Dr. Sean Corcoran presented the resolution for first reading and introduced Dean Alan Grant to answer questions. Dean Grant indicated that this resolution is bringing together the Department of Dairy Science and the Department of Animal and Poultry Science into a single academic unit so there will be a single administrative unit within the college and the separate administrative structures will no longer exist. This will provide great opportunities for students and faculty to collaborate and great efficiency.

6. Presentation

Bryan Garey, Vice President of Human Resources, gave a presentation (attached) on the Future of Work Flexibility.

7. Announcement

President Sands informed the membership that the university community is in a pretty good spot regarding COVID-19. We are about a month into the semester and the case numbers have been dropping almost continuously. We are in a strong position with 98% of our students and 80% of employees vaccinated. The bottom line is the vaccinations are working. The challenge lies within the community we serve which is not in the same spot as the Virginia Tech community. Many faculty, staff, and students have children in the local schools or daycare and the situation there is a little more difficult than on campus. President Sands thanked everyone's adherence to the public health guidelines.

8. Adjournment

There being no further business, a motion was made to adjourn the meeting at 4:29 p.m.
Future of Work at Virginia Tech

September 2021

Bryan Garey
Vice President for Human Resources

Background on the Work

- Effort started in January 2021 to promote new ways of working at Virginia Tech, leveraging the lessons learned through the pandemic.
- Faculty/Staff have different expectations for work and new experiences; along with emerging technologies, progress with innovated work models will support recruitment, retention, and productivity.
- New approaches allow us to find and keep the best talent to support the Virginia Tech mission.
- Framed as “flexible work” this includes remote work, hybrid work and alternative work schedules, among others.
- HR is partnering with Segal as we lead the university through this transition period and into the future.
Progress Report on VT Initiative

• Guiding principles established, working with President Sands, Provost Clarke, and SVP/CBO Pinkney.
  • Pilot groups established which also served as advisory committee:
    - IT
    - Advancement
    - Pamplin
    - Engineering
    - President’s Office
  • Solutions teams launched to build resources.
  • Outreach commenced which included regular touchpoints in all senior management areas.

Core guiding principles

• Future work models to focus on administrative and academic support work primarily handled by staff and AP faculty.
  • New work models will support and complement in-person academic programs.
• Decision making and flexible work options will be with SMA leader, but grounded in the nature of roles and operational needs.
• Flexible work arrangements may require occasional or regular on-site presence.
• Flexibility is key; role analysis and collaboration is required between employees and leaders.
• Support leaders and managers with necessary tools and resources to create a productive and engaging work and campus environment.
• Flexible work arrangements are fluid and evolving; progress and outcomes must be regularly assessed and adapted to emerging needs.
Current State

- Spectrum of approaches from largely remote to 100% return to workplace.
- Faculty/staff anxiety elevated with shifts and also the delta variant.
- Resources available:
  - Training
  - Flexible Work Agreement (new online tool for AP faculty/staff)
  - Revised Telework Suitability Guide
  - Pulse survey
  - Regular touchpoints with each college/unit
- Monthly retention data reports and analysis.

National Trends and Data

- Retirements accelerated in 2020, 1 million more than in 2019.
- Over 8 million Americans will have retired from the workforce in three years.
- The workforce continues to be stifled by the increasing abuse of and addiction to opioid drugs.
  - Approximately 90 Americans die everyday from an opioid overdose.
- Today about 35% of the US workforce is Millennial.
- By 2025 – Just four years from now – Millennials and Gen Z workers will represent 75% of the US workforce.
In April 2021, 4 million Americans resigned from their jobs.

Declines in birth rates began in the 1980s and 1990s.
- By the year 2026, there will be a significant drop off of 18 year-olds.

The labor shortage is impacting nearly all industries and will continue to raise business challenges for leaders and their organizations.

Generational Differences
- Baby boomers sacrificed personal pursuits for career growth.
- Millennials not willing to sacrifice personal pursuits for careers.

How can you help?
- Be open-minded as we learn through the fall.
- Consider experiments, even small ones that embrace some level of flexibility for faculty/staff.
- Be flexible in your approach as it may change over time.
- Remind faculty/staff of college/unit objectives as they consider individual needs and preferences.
- Remember that tomorrow will be different than today and yesterday; work in the future will be different.
